Fazio Canyons is the first resort course in Texas to earn the Audubon Signature Sanctuary certification.

FAZIO CANYONS

Fazio Canyons features large sloping greens, many elevation changes from tee to green, and a variety of fairway and greenside bunkers. With five sets of tees, this course will pose a challenge for golfers of all abilities. Streams and creeks meander throughout the entire course, past limestone-bedded canyons and beautiful Hill Country vistas. It is a spectacular design that has earned the prestigious National Environmental Steward Award for Resort Courses and designation as a Certified Audubon Signature Sanctuary. The course routinely makes GOLF Magazine's "Top 100 You Can Play" list.

FAZIO FOOTHILLS

The resort's signature golf course is a breathtakingly beautiful Fazio design that has been included in the "best of" lists in the top golf and consumer travel magazines. Natural limestone caves, waterfalls and fairways lined with dramatic cliffs and native trees all contribute to the visual impact of the Fazio Foothills, while the rolling terrain with frequent elevation changes adds to its many challenges. Creeks, streams and ponds figure into play on as many as seven holes. With five different sets of tees, the Foothills caters to golfers of every ability.

PALMER LAKESIDE

This Arnold Palmer design rests atop a secluded hillside above Lake Travis, rewarding golfers with striking, panoramic views of the Texas Hill Country from several vantage points. Away from the bustle of downtown Austin and only 25 minutes from the resort, its tranquil setting offers a private country club environment to all who play. The course has a variety of water features, bunkers and elevation changes. Its #11 hole is consistently ranked among the "18 Most Beautiful Holes in Texas."

CRENSHAW CLIFFSIDE

Austin's native son Ben Crenshaw and fellow golf course architect Bill Coore have designed a links-style golf course with a Texas Hill Country flair. The Crenshaw Cliffside offers generous fairways but challenges golfers with their approach to large, well-contoured greens. Crenshaw and Coore have taken advantage of the natural beauty of the terrain, with many holes playing adjacent to canyons that offer a scenic view of the Texas Hill Country.
